CONSTITUTION

I. This Brotherhood is of the Knights of King Arthur. We be Castle Galahad.

II. We be joined hand and heart to achieve Christian knightliness.

III. Our brethren be of the age of thirteen and upwards. Called are we by these names:

1. Pages, who owe watchfulness, obedience and service.

2. Squires, who vow purity, temperance and reverence.

3. Knights, who covenant to serve their King, the Church, and the Knights of Sir Galahad.

IV. Arthur is our King and ruleth at Conclave.

Merlin giveth us counsel and is our minister.

The Seneschal keepeth our rolls and serveth Merlin. Kay is chosen for such season as it pleaseth Merlin.

The Master of the Exchequer careth for the coins of the realm and giveth us an account thereof.

Heralds twain be chosen by Kay to serve as long as he serveth.

Sir Constable keepeth the room in order with the assistance of the Chamberlains.

Chancellors three do our executive work and assist Arthur.

Chamberlains seven, they who are most learned in the idylls of the King and orderly, bestow degrees.

By the names of King Arthur's court and other Christian men we be named and have our banners at Conclave.

V. We sit at the Table Round, the King on the Throne, at his right is the Siege Perilous, before him sits Sir Kay, at his left sits Sir Merlin, at the right are the Chancellors, at Merlin's left sits the Peerage. Sir Constable sitteth at the foot of the Round Table and Sir Sentinel at the inner door.

VI. A new password shall be given each month by Merlin, and one-fourth of us who have franchise may hold Conclave on proclamation by Arthur and Sir Kay, the Seneschal.

VII. This writing may be altered at any Conclave by majority vote after the alterations proposed have been read at any two Conclaves.

BY-LAWS

Our Scout Officers may sit with the Peerage.

Our dues shall be 25 cents a month for the present.

Our colors are red, white and black.

How a Page May Be Elected To Sit In Siege Perilous.

When a Page or Scout does some knightly deed of brawn or brain he is recommended by Merlin to the King, and if the Round Table so votes, he may sit that evening in Siege Perilous, and be addressed as Sir Galahad, and thereafter be a Baronet. Should he be elected again, he obtains higher degrees in the Peerage. Merlin will propose his name for such acts of chivalry as these:

Saving life.

Obtaining honor for Baronet and high honors in the Boy Scouts of America for the Peerage.

Being regular and punctual for one year in the Sunday-school.

For some noteworthy act of service and kindness.

Obtaining highest marks at school.

Honors.

Honors are given to an athlete, aviator, bee farmer, Bible student, blacksmith, bugler, clerk, cook, cyclist, dairyman, electrician, engineer, farmer, fireman gardener, handyman, horseman, interpretor, leather worker, marksman, master-at-arms, missioner, musician, pathfinder, photographer, pioneer, piper, plumber, poultry farmer, printer, seaman, signaller, stalker, star-man, surveyor, swimming and life saving.

A red chevron (sleeve stripe), is given for each honor; white chevron for each three, blue for nine, and gold for twenty-seven. High honor may be ranked as two honors.

Program 1911.
